As explained, [redacted] (the head of our consents team) is on leave this week, and I'd prefer to have his input to this. I assume this related to the proposed AREG development.

[redacted] please fix for [redacted] (plus ideally [redacted]) and I to discuss this briefly on Monday. Thereafter I'd hope that [redacted] would be able to revert to SDI, to offer an appropriate contact (probably himself?) for their client.

Thanks

Thank you for your input. In summary, the client, whose name must remain confidential at this stage, is about to conclude within the next few days a deal on a five star plus tourism/leisure resort of international standing on a site which would look directly onto the proposed offshore wind farm development. It is fair to say that the tourism project will have a substantial positive economic impact on Aberdeenshire and further afield. The client feels that the offshore wind farm proposal would negatively impact their own development such that it may well be, in his words, the "deal killer". He is looking for an authoritative view as quickly as possible from the Scottish Executive on the wind farm proposal, as to whether it is the kind of proposal which would be likely to obtain approval. He is aware of the role of Ministers in any such planning process. The client however would seek to telephone your nominated contact within the Scottish Executive over the next few days such that his decision-making can be better informed.

I look forward to hearing from you, [redacted] and am sure that you appreciate the importance of this request and its urgency.

Thanking you,
[redacted]
